

U. S. to Get Tough With Soviet Union

Editors Note — As the United States and the Soviet Union prepare to clash next week in the United Nations, Washington is switching to a get-tough strategy in dealing with Moscow. Associated Press diplomatic reporter, John M. Hightower, reviews State Department moves which reflect development of the new policy.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, under heavy Soviet pounding, has largely abandoned its postsummit policy of seeking businesslike negotiations with Moscow and is switching to a get-tough strategy of its own.

Evidence of this change is already becoming apparent. It will be fully developed at the United Nations next week when the United States and the Soviet Union join battle over charges and countercharges of threats to world peace.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and his top aides are reported to be preparing a massive verbal assault on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's activities since he torpedoed the summit conference at Paris two months ago.

President Eisenhower is described by officials here as fed up with Khrushchev's incessant campaign of accusations against the United States. He apparently feels that Khrushchev's hostile policy leaves no recourse except to strike back hard.

Two moves by the State Department Thursday reflected the developing new tough line. The department announced a note to Moscow calling off indefinitely negotiations scheduled for next Monday on an air transport agreement between the two countries.

It said, have poisoned the atmosphere for negotiation.

At the same time, the department issued a new warning to Khrushchev to keep his hands off Latin American countries, particularly Cuba. It denounced him for claiming that the 137-year-old Monroe Doctrine of America for the Americas is out of date and for trying to scuttle the U.S.-Cuban treaty covering the American naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

Khrushchev, the department asserted, is trying to establish a "Bolshevik doctrine" under which he would make use of "Soviet military power in support of Communist movements anywhere in the world."

With the shelving of the prospective negotiations on a U. S. — Soviet air agreement, the question has arisen here whether the negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests will be continued at Geneva.

State Department officials said Washington has no intention of breaking off the nuclear test conference and they doubt that Moscow will do so. This three-power negotiation therefore stands as the only important exception to the general collapse of East-West diplomacy.

Cuba Charge May Go to Americas

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Efforts were reported under way today to shift Cuba's charge of U.S. economic aggression from the U.N. Security Council to the Organization of American States after the Cubans and the Americans have their say next week.

A delegate said the Council's two Latin American members, Argentina and Ecuador, are expected to submit a formal resolution to that effect after Cuban Foreign Minister Raúl Roa addresses the Council and U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge replies. This may last through Monday and Tuesday.

A Cuban source said that the decision on whether to put its case before the U.N. or the OAS rests with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government. But he added that Cuba's main object is to clarify its point of view before world opinion.

Roa, in a complaint to the Council Monday, accused the United States of trying to block Cuba's social and economic revolution by "repeated threats, harassments, intrigues, reprisals and aggressive acts."

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the time said the normal process would have been for Cuba to have gone to the OAS. But the United States did not attempt to block a Council debate, Lodge denied the Cuban charges of aggression and said the United States "wants the world to know the truth."

Cuba Resents Argentina's Position

HAVANA (AP) — The pro-government paper Revolution criticized Argentina today for asking Cuba to disavow Soviet interference in Western Hemisphere affairs. Revolution complained that Argentina had never asked the United States officially not to attack Cuba.

Argentina, in an oral communication to the Foreign Ministry in Havana, said problems arising from Cuba's dispute with the United States should be taken up with the Organization of American States.

Instructions to Ambassador Julio Amadeo in Havana told him to convey to the Cuban government Argentina's "preoccupation" with international complications that might ensue from "threats made by an extra-continental state." It said these threats are equal to "an intervention in hemisphere affairs."

Foreign Ministry sources in Buenos Aires said it was made clear that Argentina referred to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent warning that the United States would be within the range of Soviet missiles if it intervened in Cuba.

Cuba has asked the U. N. Security Council to look into the dispute with the United States. The OAS has scheduled a meeting Saturday to consider a Peruvian proposal for a meeting of American hemisphere foreign ministers to deal with the Cuban situation.

Ike Assigns $500,000 for Millwood Dam

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a water projects authorization bill which covers a number of Arkansas and Arkansas-related projects, River channel.

A total of 100 projects, with a cost of about $1,400,000,000 if all completed, is involved. The bill authorizes future construction, but actual appropriations must be made before any funds will be available for work.

Projects in the measure include work on the Arkansas River in Arkansas and Oklahoma and on the Ouachita and Black Rivers in Arkansas and Louisiana.

The bill authorizes 43 1/2 million dollars for the channel on the Ouachita River and 60 million for the White River in Arkansas. It also approves $6,100,000 for Dardanelle Dam work.

Also authorized are these Arkansas River projects: $20,700,000 for Buffalo Reservoir, $17,400,000 for Keystone Reservoir and $3,700,000 for Ogolgha Reservoir, all in Oklahoma. Other reservoir authorizations include $14,143,000 for Greers Ferry Reservoir, $2,800,000 for Beaver Reservoir and $3,300,000 for Bull Shoals Reservoir, all in Arkansas.

Nine million dollars was authorized for Arkansas River bank stabilization work.

The measure also contains these authorizations: $500,000 each to start construction of Millwood Dam in Arkansas and Broken Bow Dam in Oklahoma; $100,000 in planning funds for Gilliam Reservoir in Arkansas, and $150,000 for planning funds for Pine Creek Reservoir in Oklahoma.

Jap Premier Kishi and Cabinet Quit

TOKYO (AP) — Premier Nobusuke Kishi and his Cabinet formally resigned today, opening the way for the installation of Hayato Ikeda next week as head of a new government.

The Cabinet—the third Kishi had formed in his 3 1/2 years in office—met for its final session to assemble the resignation notices, which were taken to Kishi's hospital bedside for his seal and signature.

Kishi, stalked and wounded in the left thigh by an ultranationalist Thursday, was reported by aides to be in good spirits but is expected to remain hospitalized at least two weeks.

Reds in Havana

HAVANA (AP) — A high-level Chinese Communist trade mission was due in Havana today, an Peiping was expected to offer to take up some of the slack in Cuban sugar sales created by the U.S. cutback in purchases. It was anticipated that the trade talks would lay the groundwork for establishment of full diplomatic relations, which would make Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to recognize the Peiping government.

Speculation Mounts Over How Deeply Johnson Was Cut by Kennedy Victory

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic ticket of Sen. John F. Kennedy for president and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president faces a couple of kinds of fish, political and personal.

For years Johnson, 51, has shown signs of aching for the presidential nomination. Therefore, seeing it go this week to Kennedy, eight years his junior, year in the national political must have been a shattering blow.

The fact that Johnson, at Kennedy's request, would accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket looks like a victory at first glance. It makes sense when you lift the lid on this strange political pot and look inside.

Johnson, as Senate leader of the Democrats, for years has had tons of the most important and powerful jobs in the country. What he wanted was the most powerful job of all, the presidency.

Compared with either one of them, the vice presidency is a shadowy situation. A vice president traditionally

Johnson Is Big Surprise of Convention

By JOHN CHADWICK

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, 51, the Texan who is the Democratic leader of the Senate, stood out today as the big surprise of his party's 1960 convention.

The surprise was not that his bid for the presidential nomination failed; rather, it was that he is coming out of the the convention as the vice presidential candidate.

Few expected that he would accept second place on the ticket, even if it were offered to him, although he had never slammed the door on this possibility.

But there he was in the glare of the convention hall Thursday night, after his nomination, saying, "I am proud to stand beside and to stand behind the next President of the United States, Jack Kennedy."

What had happened after Kennedy, 43, Massachusetts senator, had soundly trounced him in the battle for the presidential nomination?

The sequence of events, as pieced together from Johnson and from other sources in and out of the Kennedy camp, was this:

Thursday morning, Kennedy went to Johnson's suite and they talked over vice presidential possibilities. Kennedy sounded Johnson out on taking the number two spot on the ticket but didn't offer it to him.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Johnson's fellow Texan and longtime political mentor, was opposed to Johnson's running for vice president, fearing it might be a dead end for him politically.

Johnson apparently let Kennedy know this because a short time later Kennedy slipped away to Rayburn's nearby hotel suite. In the end Rayburn was won over, but not without some reluctance.

After seeing Rayburn, Kennedy returned to his own hotel suite where Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Gov. Michael V. DeSalle of Ohio, Carmine DeSapio of New York and other party leaders who played a major part in Kennedy's nomination were gathered.

A decision was reached that Johnson would strengthen the ticket the most. Other possibilities, such as Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Harry M. Jackson of Washington, and Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota, were discarded.

Word of the decision was relayed to Johnson by telephone, but it was only a few minutes before the news was made public, shortly after 4 p. m., that the Texas had agreed to accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Simple Presides Over the Senate

Johnson, whose Senate term is up this year, without question could be re-elected by Texas and retain his Senate leadership. He is still expected to run for the Senate as well as the vice presidency.

But this happens to be a tough year for the national political scene. The South, as it showed at the Democratic convention, was restless and balky over the very liberal civil rights platform plan which showed down its throat by the rest of the convention delegates.

There was a good chance the South in next November's election would be a lot less than a toward warring the South, which is where Johnson had his main base.

By getting Johnson to run with Kennedy, Kennedy went a long way toward warring the South, which is where Johnson had his main base.

Maiden Voter Ruling Given Local Public

County Clerk J. D. Turnage and Royce Weisenberger and John L. Wilson of the Prosecuting Attorney's Office desire to call attention of all prospective maiden voters in the approaching Democratic primaries to a very important ruling issued by Attorney General Bruce Bennett on June 21, 1960. The last paragraph of that ruling reads as follows:

"If a person became 21 years of age after April 10, 1959, he or she would be eligible to vote without payment of a poll tax in any election held in Arkansas prior to October 2, 1960."

Your local official's point out that this means that any young person who has lived in Arkansas a year, in the particular county where he proposes to vote for six months, and in the precinct 30 days prior to July 26, 1960, can vote without a poll tax provided he or she became 21 years of age after April 10, 1959. In times like we live in presently it is important that all of our young people give attention to the ballot and those that might not have a poll tax that came within this particular age group and are otherwise known as "maiden voters" should take advantage of their opportunity and cast their ballot.

Such persons will be required to execute a "maiden voter's" affidavit at the polls in the presence of one of the election judges. There are no other requirements.

Exp. Station Cattlemen's Day July 19

Everyone interested in cattle production is invited to make part or all of the tour of Research Work and Cattle Demonstrations sponsored by the Southwest Branch Experiment Station, Arkansas Cattlemen's Association, and Ned Purdie, Tuesday, July 19.

The program starts at 12:30 noon at Research Plots in Miller County on Highway 22 about four miles west of Garrettsville. One hour will be spent showing the visitors results of three years' work with permanent type pasture plants as well as those used for summer supplemental pastures.

Those making the tour will arrive at the Experiment Station at 2:30 p. m. for a thirty minute presentation of the pasture work now in progress. The group will then go to Mr. Ned Purdie's farm one mile NE of the Station to arrive at 3:30 p. m. for a discussion of the Pasture Research Plots on blackland. Following this discussion there will be a demonstration on the difference as shown between high and low quality bulls on the production of feeder calves. Also included will be a demonstration on selection of herd bulls. Visitors will have an opportunity to see Mr. Purdie's cow herd and pastures.

The program will conclude at 7 p. m. following an address by Dr. John W. White, Vice President for Agriculture, University of Arkansas, Division of Agriculture.

Liberals Cry Out Against the Texan

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy formally accepts the Democratic presidential nomination tonight, with party liberals bemoaning his endorsement of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate.

In a dramatic but highly traditional decision Thursday, Kennedy compromised with the political realities of a threatened Southern bolt and wheeled in Johnson, the majority leader of the Senate, as his vice presidential nominee.

The Massachusetts senator thus took a practical step toward quieting a growing Dixie rebellion. But he reversed in return some protests from party liberals who felt they had been influential in his top-place nomination and deserved better of their efforts than a middle-of-the-road vice presidential candidate.

Kennedy could placate these dissenters, however, with a liberal acceptance speech tonight, and the choice of one of his group to succeed Paul M. Butler as the party's national chairman. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington was tabbed as a leading candidate for this job.

There was one report, quickly denied by both the Kennedy and Johnson camps, that Johnson was chosen at his own insistence. The report came from John S. Knight, publisher of the Knight newspaper, in a copyrighted story he wrote for his newspapers.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, described the report as "completely and absolutely untrue."

"Sen. Kennedy asked Sen. Johnson to run, and Sen. Johnson accepted," Salinger added.

In a statement issued later through his office, Kennedy himself described the story as "pure and absolute fabrication with no basis in fact. I visited Sen. Johnson at approximately 10:30 (this Thursday) morning. Thereafter, after consulting leaders of the Democratic party around the country, I asked him if he would accept the position of the vice presidency. The subject matter was brought up completely on my own initiative."

A spokesman for Johnson also said there was "absolutely nothing to the story."

Knight wrote that Johnson had passed the word to Sen. Kennedy's brother Robert that, having been defeated by Kennedy for the presidential nomination, he wanted second place and would fight for it on the floor of the convention if necessary.

Jailbreaker Is Captured Near Searcy

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — A jailbreaker stood motionless in a wooded area near Searcy last night as bullets from a pursuing officer's pistol tickled him in both legs.

Wesley B. Cordell, 34, of Little Rock, said later he wished the slugs had killed him.

Cordell and another jailbreaker, Jimmy Miller, were taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Bill Bogle, Miller, a 17-year-old Michigan youth, offered no resistance.

The pair escaped from White County Jail here last Friday with two other prisoners, Benjamin Crippen, 30, of Rome, N. Y., and Gordon Drumwright, 19, of Boebo. The latter two were captured at Dyersburg, Tenn., Sunday, and returned to Arkansas.

Bogle went to the Turnip Church community, 17 miles west of Searcy, after getting a report two strangers had been seen in the area.

The deputy and Sherman Worham, 27, of Turnip Church, who had supplied the tip, found Cordell and Miller in the woods. They were eating canned food.

Bogle said he yelled for them to surrender. Miller did. But Cordell began running, and the deputy fired three warning shots from his .38 caliber pistol.

Cordell halted and put his hands in his pocket. Thinking Miller had a gun, Bogle fired again. The bullet grazed Cordell's left leg.

Bogle said he fired one more when Cordell remained facing with his hand still in his pocket. The slug nicked Cordell's right leg. Then he gave up.

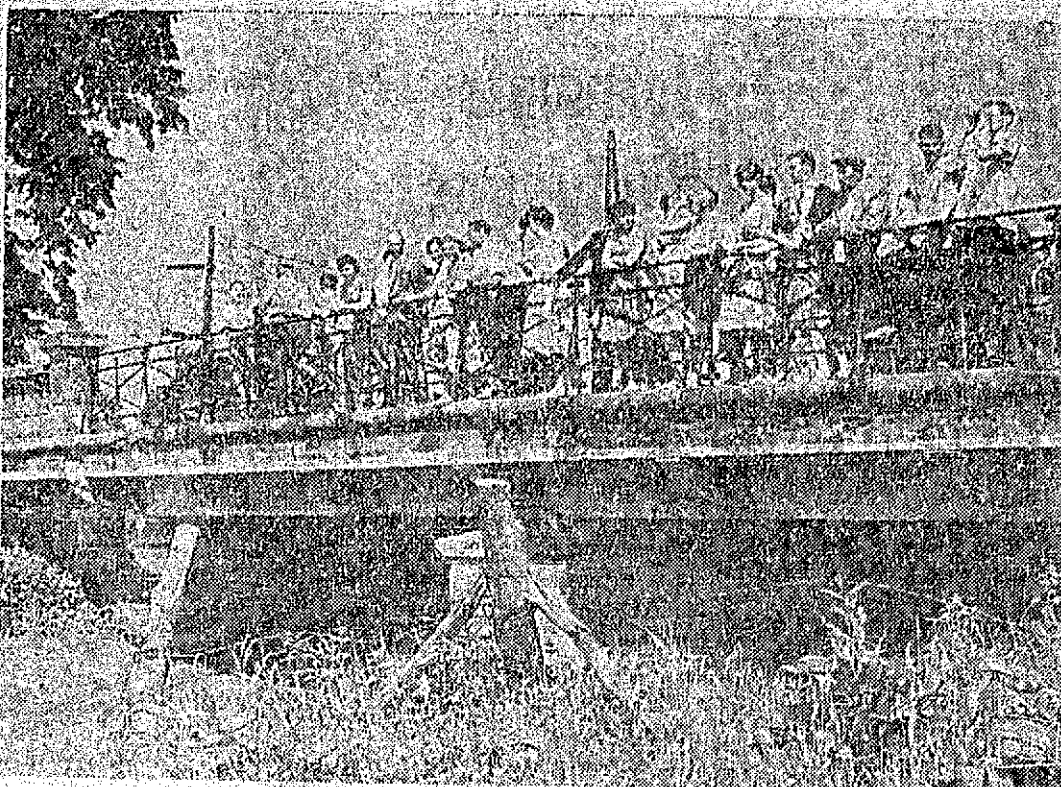

Nurses at a Searcy hospital where Cordell was taken quoted him as saying:

"I don't blame the officer for shooting but I only wish he'd shot higher. I've spent 25 years in the penitentiary and I don't want to go back."

Medical Research Bill Signed

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed into law a bill setting up a new program of international medical research.

The program would be financed largely through U. S.-owned foreign currencies obtained for surplus farm commodities which this country sends abroad.

These currencies, plus some direct federal grants, would be used for furnishing equipment to hospitals and laboratories abroad, training of foreign scientists in this country and U. S. scientists overseas, translation and distribution services, and many other purposes.

The program would support planning for research into disease and disease prevention on a world wide basis, and encourage international coordination of medical research programs.

The U. S. Public Health Service would have charge of the program, called "Health for Peace" by its supporters.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), principal sponsor of the bill, said in a statement there is "no doubt that this legislation will produce dividends that are beyond price—dividends that can be expressed only in terms of the hundreds of thousands of lives that can and will be saved in our country and through the world in the years ahead."

The bill finally sent to the President as a sharply cut-down version of Hill's original proposal.

Hill's bill as passed by the Senate would have set up a new institute for international medical research at the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

U.S. Warns Reds Monroe Ban Effective

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, solemnly reaffirming the Monroe Doctrine, warned Russia today to keep its hands off Western hemisphere countries.

At the same time, the State Department denounced as a "naked menace to world peace" Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's implied threats that Soviet rockets might fly to help Cuba repel alleged American aggression.

In a sternly-worded statement, the State Department accused Khrushchev of seeking to supplant the 137-year-old Monroe Doctrine with a "bolshhevik doctrine providing for the use of Soviet military power in support of Communist movements anywhere in the world."

Khrushchev's threats, the department said, "revealed the hypocrisy of his protestations in the half of peace."

President Eisenhower personally approved the department declaration which was read to newsmen by a department spokesman at a press conference.

A separate action underscored U. S. criticism of Soviet attitudes. The United States suddenly postponed talks with Russia on civil air service on the grounds that under the Public Health Service. The original bill also would have authorized spending 50 million dollars annually for the program.

Congo Breaks Diplomacy With Belgium

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Congolese government has broken off diplomatic relations with Belgium, Baron Paul Kfonacker, president of the House of Representatives, announced today.

Premier Gaston Eyskens had been scheduled to make a statement on the most recent developments in the Congo situation, but Kfonacker said Eyskens was prevented from coming to the House because news of the diplomatic break-off had just reached Brussels.

Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny then declared that Belgium will ask the United Nations for an international investigation of the crimes committed in the Congo.

"Our first duty is to protect human lives," he said.

"Furthermore, Congolese authorities themselves asked for our troops' intervention. In spite of that we got July 12 an ultimatum from President (Joseph) Kasavubu ordering the withdrawal of our forces within two hours. We rejected it."

There seemed to be differences of opinion over the military role Belgium are to play in their old colony, freed only two weeks ago when peace finally returns.

Ed Mathews was in a slump so bad he was even talking about it. Milwaukee's slugger third baseman hadn't hit a home run in 19 games, and his batting average was down to .266 with just two hits in 27 trips.

The second-place Braves were stumbling along the same way, losing 11 of their last 19 games. What's worse, they had managed to beat first-place Pittsburgh just three times in 13 tries. And they were 0-4 against Little Lefty Harvey Haddix of the Pirates.

They buried the slumps and the Haddix jinx but good Thursday night, winning 4-0 at Pittsburgh as Mathews walloped a home run, a triple and a double while driving in three runs behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Buhl and Lev Burdette's neat, ninth-inning relief.

The loss, coming in a make-up game while the rest of the major league clubs were resting after the All-Star games, trimmed the Pirates' lead to four games again.

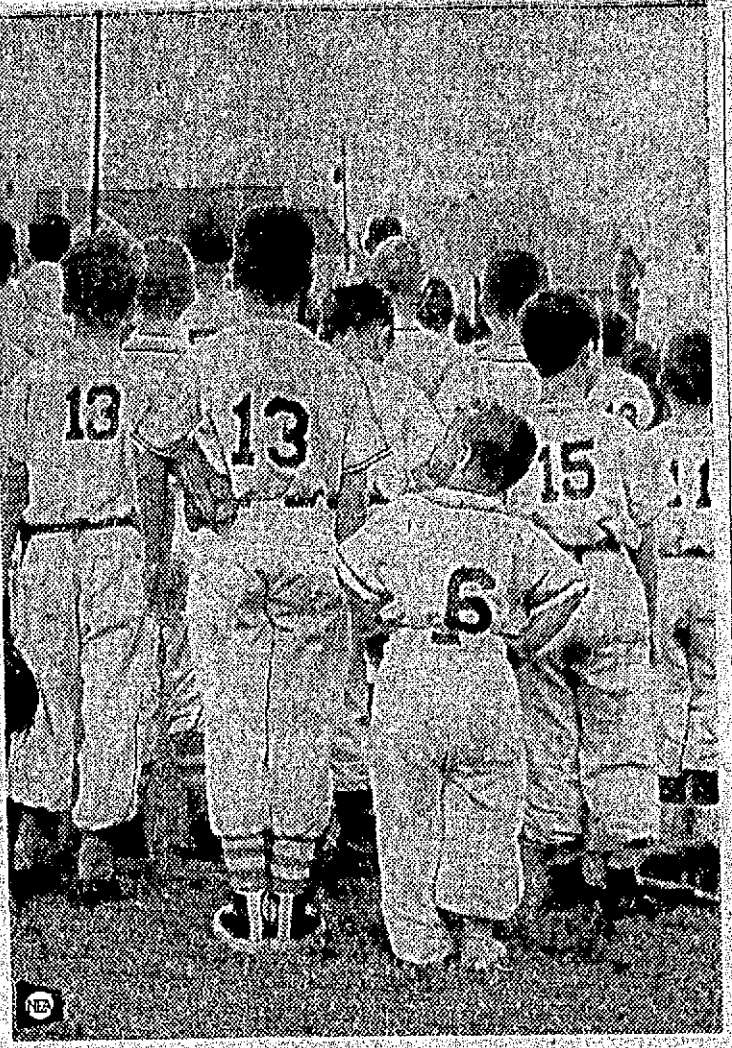

It was during the All-Star games, which don't count in regular season statistics, that Mathews mentioned the slump he was trying to shake—and showed signs of shaking it by belting a two-run homer in Wednesday's 6-0 victory over the American League at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Oddly, the left-handed hitting Mathews broke the slump against three left-handed pitchers. It was Yankee Whitey Ford who gave up his All-Star jolt, and it was Haddix and reliever Fred Green who were tagged for his extra-base hits at Pittsburgh.

Billy Bruton, Del Crandall and Mathews each had three of the Braves' 15 hits against the Pirates, and a dozen of 'em were off Haddix, now 6-5.

Bruton's double off single and Mathews' double gave the Braves a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Then, with Bruton on base again, Mathews walloped his 17th home run in the fifth inning. It was the seventh ever to clear the roof of the double-deck right field stands at Forbes Field, and the second Mathews has sent over that barrier.

The Braves got their final run in the ninth, when Mathews tripped and scored on Joe Adcock's squeeze bunt.

SHORTY STOP—"You call this Little League?" says the Hellertown, Pa., youngster whose number six also represents his age. One pants leg up, the other down, he's shunted to the back of his not-so-little teammates. He has to grow.

UN to Send African Unit Into Congo

By MILON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council early today approved Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's plan to speed a stopgap U.N. military force drawn mostly from African nations to the new republic of the Congo in an effort to keep it from collapsing into anarchy.

Immediately after the council acted, the secretary general assured that first steps to put the force together would be taken "in a couple of hours." Initial elements of the force were expected to be in the central African country before the end of the week.

Approval of U.N. intervention came at an emergency 6½-hour session of the council that did not adjourn until 3:24 a.m.

Hammarskjöld called the meeting after receiving urgent requests from the Congo government for U.N. aid.

For a time it appeared that his plea for quick action would be stymied by a dispute over the future of Belgian troops that intervened in the Congo after the native army had mutinied against its Belgian officers and gone on a rampage of violence and pillage.

But the council rejected Soviet demands that it condemn Belgium as an armed aggressor in the Congo, seek immediate withdrawal of the troops, and stipulate that the U.N. military force be restricted to troops from African countries.

Then, by a vote of 8-0 with 3 abstentions, the council approved a Tunisian resolution calling for withdrawal of the Belgian troops without setting any definite date and authorizing Hammarskjöld to take the necessary steps for dispatch of the U.N. force.

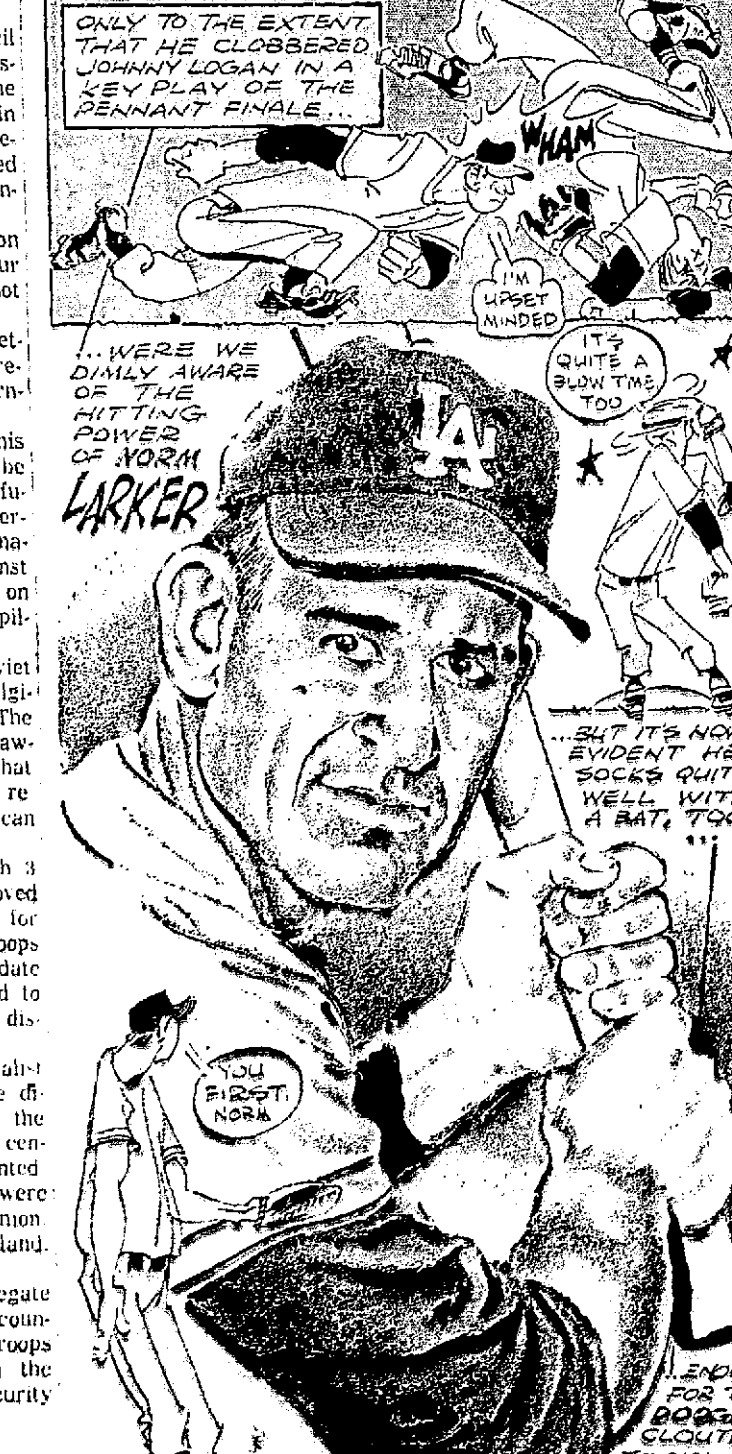

Britain, France and Nationalist China abstained, opposing the direct call for withdrawal of the Belgian troops as an implied censure they said was not warranted.

Voting for the resolution were the United States, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Poland, and Argentina.

Before the vote Belgian Delegate Walter Lardani declared his country would withdraw its troops when the U.N. force is on the spot and able to restore security to the Congo.

Admissions to the Arkansas State Hospital during the fiscal year 1959 were 38 percent greater than in 1951.

Yanks Open 4-Game Stay at Detroit

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League begins its battle back from obscurity (that's a joke, Charlie) tonight, resuming the pennant scrap to decide who gets a crack at saving face against the National League in the World Series.

If you've forgotten how things stood before the AL was laid out by the NL All-Stars, the New York Yankees are on top, leading Cleveland by 2½ after dropping three straight at Boston. Chicago's defending champion White Sox are third, three games back, with Baltimore fourth, another length behind.

The only game scheduled Thursday in the majors was a make-up at Pittsburgh, where second-place Milwaukee defeated the Pirates 4-0 and cut their National League lead to four games.

Going into the opener of a four-game series at Detroit tonight, Yankee Manager Casey Stengel mentioned the possibility of resting Roger Maris, the ailing thumper who leads the majors with 27 home runs. The young right fielder also led the AL in fullness, leaving seven men on base in Wednesday's All-Star game shut out by the NL.

It's probable, however, that both Maris, bothered by a sprained wrist, and sore-legged Mickey Mantle will be in the line-up.

The Indians, who play three with New York beginning Monday, get back to business against fired-up Washington. The Nats have won seven of their last eight—since dropping three straight to the Indians.

Reds Lying, Says White House Report

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The White House said today the Soviets are "just lying" in continuing to contend that the U. S. Air Force reconnaissance plane shot down in the Arctic was over Soviet waters.

The lie charge was made by President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, as a bitter U. S.-Soviet Union argument over the episode shaped up in the United Nations Security Council.

The Soviet Union demanded Wednesday that the Council meet in emergency session to consider its charge that America's planes engaged in aggressive activity which threatens world peace.

Eisenhower responded that the U. S. government is willing and ready to go before the Council in order to focus world attention on what he termed "the lawless actions and reckless threats" of the Soviet Union.

At a news conference at the President's vacation headquarters today, Hagerty was told the Moscow radio still is claiming that the RB37 reconnaissance plane shot down July 1 was over Soviet waters—and that the United States has no idea where it is brought down.

The U. S. government has said the plane was over international waters and that at no time was it within 30 miles of Soviet territory, waters or air space.

"They are just lying, that's all," Hagerty declared in commenting on the continuing Soviet claims.

Hagerty repeatedly has declined to elaborate on how the U. S. government is able to state so positively the plane did not wander into a Soviet area.

Douthit Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ancil M. Douthit, 38, was promoted to city manager yesterday by Little Rock's Board of Directors. Douthit, assistant city manager here for the past two years, succeeds Dean Dautley, who resigned earlier this week to enter private business at Dallas. Douthit will assume his duties Aug. 15 the date Dautley's resignation becomes effective. Dautley was hired in January, 1958, as Sermon on the Mount. Little Rock's first city manager. Perhaps we've become grooved

FINDING THE WAY PH IN ORBIT 160 MILES OUT BY RALPH W. LOEWN D.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
You are riding in a satellite 160 miles out in space. You are traveling in an orbit at 18,000 miles an hour. You are sending back messages, making decisions, observing that which has been unknown. You are lonesome. This is the prospect for mankind within a generation if scientists' predictions come true. If this seems incredible to most of you who are rooted in the planet, there is nothing unique about the loneliness of making decisions. The diplomat at the conference table, the industrialist commanding the livelihood of thousands, the father making choice for his family, the aviator receiving the signal to take off in the million-dollar jet plane — all are caught in the common loneliness of their diverse set of circumstances. Great decisions require the security of a stable faith which will sustain a person in lonesome moments. Every individual is trapped in some set of circumstances and often if his orbit is not orderly it is at least continuous. If we send out muddled messages, acting as though we were unobservant, playing the role as though we were hysterical, there would be little meaning for the flight we call life. There was an old saint who refused to accept all of this as a trap. He had seen life at its worst and he refused to be disillusioned. St. Paul shouted his signals back from his "orbit" of shipwrecks, imprisonments, betrayals and beatings, saying: "We then as workers together with God beseech you to hold fast to that which is good. Nothing can really separate you from the love of God." This is the time to remember that our satellite is not beyond laws. Lonesomeness is liable to produce a kind of "what's the use?" psychosis. When man feels sorry for himself he garbles the messages. Although our generation knows more about rootlessness than civilization has known for many generations, this isn't the first time in history when people have been on the move. The Ten Commandments were brought to civilization through a people wandering in the desert. The ancient prophets came out to tell kings and priests that they were rooted in a status quo that was unaware of righteousness and justice. It was a Man who was described as "having no place to lay his head" who taught the Sermon on the Mount. Perhaps we've become grooved

VACATION MAIL

Smart people don't let little things advertise the fact that they're on vacation and the house is empty. One of those things is an accumulation of mail, reminds the Post Office. Sketches above illustrate three ways vacationers can make sure they don't come home to an overstuffed mailbox or a lost letter.

In the wrong orbit.

For most of us it's academic to wonder what's it like to ride in the satellite. We have today's decisions and they are important. There are moral problems to be solved morally. There are laws to understand instead of excusing ourselves as being somewhat better than our neighbors. Most of all there is the comfort and the justice of the solemn fact that it is possible to ride through the events of this planet certain that we are caught in the orbit of God's concern.

TO THE VOTERS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY

I would like to take this opportunity to solicit the vote and support of my many friends and acquaintances for my father, Orie O. Byers, who is seeking the office of Hempstead County Judge.

I know my father better than anyone else, except maybe my Mother, and I assure you that he is well qualified to serve the people of Hempstead County as your County Judge.

He is the kind of Christian Father that any son or daughter would be proud of. I have worked for him in business, worked with him as a business partner and am now in business as his competition, and in all of those years, or at any other time, I never knew of anyone who was treated unfairly in any business or personal transaction with him.

Honesty and fairness always has been a big part in his teachings of us children at home and it is high time our County Administration was handled Honestly and Fairly in all matters, concerning all people.

When you go to the polls July 26, remember to vote for my father, Orie O. Byers, for Hempstead County Judge.

Sincerely,

RAYMOND C. BYERS

Speculations

backing in his unsuccessful bid for the presidential nomination. So from a political standpoint it makes sense to put Johnson on the ticket as Kennedy's running mate.

But there's a personal element in this. Washington newsmen who have dealt with Johnson for years know he has a gigantic ego. This is precisely why Kennedy's victory over him must have cut the Texan deeply.

It would hardly seem sensible for a man dressed in the tremendous robes of power worn by a Senate leader to give up that job for the comparatively less influential post of vice president.

But Johnson, who has talked with newsmen at great length about the nice things said of him over the years, could feel particularly honored if the voters chose him for a job just one heartbeat away from the presidency.

There is more. Johnson, a tremendous manipulator of men, could use the vice presidency in a way not attempted by others who have held that job. He could try to hold the reins of power in the Senate even though someone else succeeded to his present title as Democratic leader.

That's one point. As vice president he would not only sit in the president's Cabinet but also be a member of the National Security Council, the most influential and powerful single group in the executive branch of the government.

This Johnson, as vice president, could be a powerhouse in both the legislative and executive branches of the government to a degree never before attempted, even by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Knowing Johnson, it seems correct to say that while he has been denied a chance at the most powerful single position in the country, the presidency, he would use the vice presidency in such a way that he would be indisputably the second most powerful man.

There is one other consideration in all this. A Kennedy-Johnson ticket will have a two-edged appeal to voters next November. Liberals and intellectuals, labor and Negroes, will be able to support a ticket headed by Kennedy.

Conservatives can feel that the conservative John's on, even though he has a fairly liberal record himself, will be a restraining force within the government if the Democrats win.

Add all the pieces together, and it's quickly understandable why Kennedy asked Johnson to be his running mate, why Johnson so quickly accepted, and why the convention so quickly approved.

Joseph Kasayubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba. The Soviet news agency Tass quoted the Congo leaders as messaging Khrushchev Thursday. "We will be compelled to ask for intervention by the Soviet Union if the Western camp does not desist from aggression."

Chapter XVII

He walked with them toward the entrance to the bar and cafe. As the trio reached the door, the Yaqui sidled up to Artemus and plucked at his sleeve. Artemus turned upon the Indian.

"Scram," he said. "No scram," the Yaqui said stubbornly. "Talk now."

Artemus shrugged. "Pardon me," he said. "I'll see what this character wants. Okay?"

"Certainly," Jennifer said. Artemus walked aside with the Yaqui and bent over, listening as the man talked earnestly. Artemus extended his hand, and the Indian placed a small whittling of gold in his palm. Artemus turned curly away and rejoined his guests.

They sat at the table which had been reserved for them, backs against the south el, Jennifer between her father and Artemus. The girl attracted attention. Masculine eyes across the room stared at her, but she seemed unconscious of them. Serene, aristocratic, she sat there as if there were no others present but the two men at her table.

Artemus stared at the tablecloth as though distraught. Once or twice he seemed not to hear questions asked of him by Jennifer. She leaned toward him.

"Mr. Baldwin?" she asked. He laughed. "I'm sorry," he said. "Just got to thinking about something."

"That," she said smilingly, "isn't complimentary. It must be something important."

"You mean," he said "it would have to be something important to let a man's mind stray away from you?"

Colonel Beaugard's gray eyes twinkled. "You asked for that, daughter," he said. "Evidently Mr. Baldwin is a young man who speaks his mind. I like it in him."

"I didn't mean to be rude," Artemus said penitently.

"Jennifer," said Jennifer coldly, "don't blurt."

Artemus' jaw set and his eyes hardened. "I'm as much of a gentleman as anybody around," he said angrily. His manner was that of one not sure of himself who had been put on the defensive.

"Jennifer," said the colonel saucily, "Mr. Baldwin is our host."

The girl smiled quickly and touched Artemus' arm. "You nick-
